The Medicine that Cures
—IS—
VEGETINE.
Taking into consideration the character of its vouchers, the history of its cures and the immense increasing demand, VEGETINE may be fairly entitled the leading medicine of the age.
For scrofula in the blood, VEGETINE is an infallible remedy, and no person need suffer from tumors, ulcers, and all diseases arising from impure blood, if VEGETINE is used according to directions. There is not a case of scrofula in existence that VEGETINE will not cure, provided, however, the vital functions have not lost their power of action, all that may be said to the contrary notwithstanding.
VEGETINE is pleasant to the taste, mild in its influence, and absolute in its action on disease, as the following unquestionable evidence will show.
PAID NEARLY
$400.00!!
JANUARY 2, 1875.
H. R. STEVENS, Esq:
Dear Sir: When about six months old I was vaccinated. The parties who were vaccinated from the same virus died from the humor. The humor spread over me to such an extent that I was rolled in bran to prevent me from scratching my person. The disease finally settled in my head. I remained in this condition about twenty years, troubled all the time with sores breaking in my head and discharging corruption from my ear. At this time a small kernel appeared on my neck, gradually increasing in size until a tumor formed of such immense size I could see it by turning my eyes downward. All this time I was taking various remedies for my blood without any substantial benefit.
I then went to a prominent physician in Boston who, during his treatment of six months, lanced the tumor eight times, which cost me nearly $400. This left me with a rough, aggravated sore, without at all diminishing the size of the tumor, and in a sickly, feeble condition. I consulted another physician in Natick, who, after considerable time, succeeded in healing the sore without reducing the size. At this point I commenced to use VEGETINE, through the earnest persuasion of a friend. After I had taken this medicine about one week I experienced wonderful sensations. My whole body seemed to be undergoing a radical change, until, finally, the tumor broke and discharged frightful quantities. From this time it decreased in size until the bunch disappeared, but my neck still bears the ugly scars of the sore and the lance. I am now healthy and strong and able to work every day.
I will also mention that I have been an acute sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism ever since I can remember, until commencing the use of VEGETINE, when almost immediately all rheumatic pains ceased. This statement I volunteer for the purpose of benefiting other suffering humanity; and you will confer a favor by giving it as much publicity as thought proper.
Very gratefully,
O. M. SAVELS, Ashland, Mass.

What is Vegetine?
It is a compound extracted from barks, roots and herbs. It is Nature's remedy. It is perfectly harmless from any bad effect upon the system. It is nourishing and strengthening. It acts directly upon the blood. It quiets the nervous system. It gives you a good, sweet sleep at night. It is a great panacea for our aged fathers and mothers, for it gives them strength, quiets their nerves, and gives them nature's sweet sleep—as has been proved by many an aged person. It is the great Blood Purifier. It is a soothing remedy for our children. It has relieved and cured thousands. It is very pleasant to take; every child likes it. It relieves and cures all diseases originating from impure blood. Try the VEGETINE. Give it a fair trial for your complaints; then you will say to your friend, neighbor and acquaintance, "Try it, it has cured me."

Report from a Practical Chemist and Apothecary.
BOSTON, Jan 1, 1874.
Dear Sir: This is to certify that I have sold at retail 154¾ dozen (1852 bottles) of your VEGETINE since April 12, 1870, and can truly say that it has given me best satisfaction of any remedy for the complaints for which it is recommended that I ever sold. Scarcely a day passes without some of my customers testifying to its merits on themselves or their friends. I am perfectly cognizant of several cases of scrofulous Tumors being cured by VEGETINE alone in this vicinity. Very respectfully yours,
A. I. GILMAN, 408 Broadway.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1875.

A SONG OF THE EARLY AUTUMN.
BY R. W. G.

When in late Summer the streams run yellow,
Barret the bridges and spread into bays;
When berries are black and peaches are mellow
And hills are hidden by rainy haze;

When the golden rod is golden still,
But the heart of the sunflower is browner and sadder;
When the corn is in stacks on the slope of the hill,
And over the path slides the striped adder;

When butterflies flutter from clover to thicket,
Or wave their wings on the drooping leaf,
When breeze comes shrill with the call of the cricket—
Grasshopper's rasp, and rustle of sheaf;

When high in the field the fern leaves wrinkle,
And brown as the grass where the mowers have mown,
When low in the meadow the cow bells tinkle,
And brooklets crinkle over stock and stone;

When heavy and hollow the quail's whistle,
And thick lies the shade in the heat o'noon;
When the air is white with the down o'the thistle,
And the sky is red with the harvest moon;

O then be chary, young Robert and Mary;
Let no time slip—not a moment wait!
If the fiddle would play it must stop its tuning,
And they who would marry must be done with their mooning;
And well the cattle, let the churn go rattle,
And pile the wood by the barn yard gate!

—(Scribner for October.

A ROYAL VOYAGE.

Our readers are aware that the Serapis has been fitted up as a pleasure yacht to convey the Prince of Wales to India. The London News of the 20th describes the fitting up of the royal cabin, from which we may learn what comforts are considered necessary for a protracted sea voyage of an English prince:
"On ascending the grand staircase we find ourselves in the royal saloon. Here, perhaps, the visitor will experience some little disappointment. There is no glitter or gorgeousness. Indeed, we question whether the general appearance is not too sombre. The whole of the upholstery and the principal part of the furniture were selected by his royal highness himself, and he was consulted on every point. The apartments are very spacious, and have been so arranged that they can easily be divided by means of silk curtains. The whole of the grand saloon has been devoted to the use of his royal highness. The cabins hitherto existing have been removed, and the space has been used for the erection of sleeping cabins, dressing-rooms, and bath-rooms, which his royal highness will use, those on one side during the outward and those on the other during the homeward voyage. The whole of the royal furniture is in unpolished English oak; the coverings of the chairs, sofas and lounges, the tops of the tables, and in fact everything requiring to be covered, are in a dull brown morocco leather. The stern lounges are framed like the rest in English oak, and are covered with leather; but the frames have been highly polished. The principal dining-table will accommodate sixty guests, and will be in the form of a horse-shoe, the bow being fixed close to the bulkhead of the saloon. This table, however, will not always be used, and it is so constructed that it can easily be removed to make way for a smaller one of an oval shape, which will accommodate twenty four guests. There are unpolished oak dumb waiters and dinner wagons, oak side flaps or carving tables, card tables, one of Messrs. Jackson & Graham's recently invented, and comfortable reclining chairs, and a host of other articles in oak which it would be difficult to enumerate. The whole of the carpeting throughout the royal apartments is of one pattern, and is in general keeping with the furniture. It is of the best Brussels, and the pattern is Persian in character. The table covers are of Indian patterns. We may add the arms of his royal highness appear upon nearly every article, even the brown morocco coverings of the stationery cases for the writing tables and the many colored leather footstools being stamped with them. The general decorations of the saloon are exceedingly chaste, and reflect the greatest credit upon all concerned in their execution. The principal color is white, relieved by a very pale blue, with which the columns and cornices are painted. The latter are surmounted at intervals of about four feet with miniatures of the crest of the Indian troop-ships, namely, a golden sun, bearing a garter containing the words 'Heaven's light our guide,' within which is a star worked in silver. Gold has been freely but not extravagantly used in 'picking out' (to use a technical term) the various points usually gilded in yacht decorations. The sides are also relieved by eight pier glasses framed in unpolished oak, a thick rope of gold encircling the whole. The prince's retiring apartments are fitted up with every regard to comfort. He will sleep on a magnificent brass bedstead, which will be fixed to two upright standards, so as to give it a cradle movement; but what the effect will be in the case of the ship pitching, or lurching, or making any sure a rolling motion, we are unable to say. The furniture in the sleeping apartments is also of oak, with brown morocco coverings, the cabinets being particularly worthy of mention, on account of the excellence of the carving. The writing tables are particularly handsome, the brown leather tops being richly edged with a broad band of gold worked into a design, combining the rose, shamrock, and thistle, while the Prince of Wales's feathers occupy each corner. The whole of the windows of the state apartments are furnished with patent self-acting spring blinds of sage green silk, the rollers being hidden by sage green valances of silken fringe, interspersed here and there with white silk tassels. Each window will also be supplied with lace curtains of magnificent pattern."

WOMEN'S CHARM OF NEEDLE-WORK.—There is something exquisitely pleasant and touching—at least of a very sweet, soft and winning effect—in this peculiarity of needlework distinguishing men from women. Our own sex is incapable of any such by-play aside from the main business of life; but women—be they of what earthly rank they may, however gifted with intellect or genius, or endowed with artful beauty—have always some little handiwork ready to fill up the tiny gap of every vacant moment. A needle is familiar to the fingers of them all. A queen, no doubt, plies it on occasions; the woman's eye that has discovered a new star turns from its glory to send the polished little instrument gleaming along the hem of her kerchief, or to darn a casual flaw in her dress. And they have the advantage of us in this respect. The slender thread of silk or cotton keeps them united with the small, familiar, gentle interests of life; the continually operating influences do much for the health of the character, and carry off what would otherwise be a dangerous accumulation of morbid sensibility. A vast deal of human sympathy runs along this electric line, stretching from the throne to the wicker chair of the humblest seamstress, and keeping high and low in a species of common union with their kindred beings. Methinks it is a token of healthy and gentle characteristics when women of accomplishments and high thoughts love to sew, especially as they are never more at home with their own hearts than when so occupied.—[Hawthorne's "Marble Faun."

THE NEWPORT DAILY NEWS AND THE NEWPORT JOURNAL.

The NEWPORT DAILY NEWS is published every afternoon, except Sundays, at the News Building, 13 Church street by Davis & Pitman.

The NEWPORT JOURNAL is published at the same office every Thursday morning, and contains selection of the best matter in the Daily, including Editorial Discussions of the topics of the week, Literary Miscellanies, and at least one good Story, the Latest Markets, and a complete and comprehensive Summary of the news, local and general. The JOURNAL is a large 36 column paper and contains 50 per cent. more reading matter than any other paper in the south part of the state.

Complaints regarding the irregular or improper delivery of either paper should be sent to the office at once.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Ordinary Advertisements, $1 a square, for the first insertion, and 25 cents for each continuance: Ten lines or less, in this type, make a square. Advertisements in Reading matter is charged for, at 50 per cent extra. A discount on these rates is allowed on all advertisements ordered for one week or longer. Funeral Notices 50 cents each. Notices of marriages and deaths free. Yearly advertisers are limited to their immediate business and are allowed twenty-five changes a year.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

The DAILY NEWS, $6 per annum, or 12 cents a week; payable to carrier.

The NEWPORT JOURNAL, $2 per annum, in advance.

PRINTING.

Connected with THE NEWS is the largest general printing office in the city. All orders for work in this department will be promptly filled, and at reasonable prices. The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

Newport Daily News.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1875.

IN RESPONSE TO A CIRCULAR ADDRESSED TO ALL THE POSTMASTERS IN NEWPORT COUNTY, ASKING THE NUMBER OF PAPERS DISTRIBUTED THROUGH THEIR OFFICES, ANSWERS HAVE BEEN RECEIVED STATING, IN EVERY CASE, THE EXACT NUMBER, WHICH SHOWS THE CIRCULATION OF THE JOURNAL IN THESE COUNTRY TOWNS TO BE MORE THAN THREE TIMES THAT OF ANY OTHER PAPER PUBLISHED IN NEWPORT, AND FOURTEEN MORE THAN THAT OF ALL OTHER RHODE ISLAND PAPERS COMBINED. THE LETTERS MAY BE SEEN IF DESIRED AT THE OFFICE OF THE NEWPORT DAILY NEWS.

THE DAY.

A half dozen or so labor reformers have met and nominated Wendell Phillips for governor of Massachusetts. There is plenty of room for inflation in this case.

It takes just one cent to send an ordinary paper by mail from Canada into the United States; but according to our postal laws, as existing at present, it takes four cents to send the same paper back.

The Boston postoffice is becoming notorious. It is now said that nearly all the bank letters sent from Hartford to Boston last Saturday night are missing. This fact adds confirmation to the previous conviction that the Providence letters were stolen in the Boston postoffice.

The New York Mail thinks the course of Wendell Phillips is that of madness without method. Wonder if the Mail has just come to that conclusion. Many people have not doubted the great Boston agitator on that score for twenty years or more. Phillips is like a meteor, brilliant but of no practical use.

The recent census in New York gives that state at about 5,000,000 souls. It may well be called the Empire state as it constitutes quite an empire of itself. The population is now three times as large as it was fifty years ago and twice as great as it was thirty years ago. Its financial growth and business prosperity are even more striking.

The Fall River News says that the spirit of improvement is abroad and quite active. New buildings are going up, and ground is occasionally broken for more, and others are repairing edifices or improving the surroundings, all of which shows that a firm faith in the future still exists, and our people are not intimidated by the sour aspect fortune may wear for a season.

The negro riot in Mississippi seems, this time, to be a genuine thing. It is evident that the colored people learn rapidly, and having seen these outbreaks going on for years among the whites are trying it themselves on a small scale. Gov. Ames is evidently not the man for emergencies, and Gen. Grant doesn't seem inclined to help him out of troubles.

Some of the Fall River strikers are resolved not to be thrown out of business. They have issued an address to "liberty loving and free American citizens" in which they assert a determination to continue agitating until the articles of agreement are withdrawn by the manufacturers, and they call upon all operatives to keep away from the city during the difficulty. It is evident that work don't agree with these fellows.

Notwithstanding the great outcry against the appointment of Mr. Simmons as collector of the port of Boston, it is now said that he is the model officer of the entire department. No large custom house is so well managed as that at the Hub. Gen. Grant never did a wiser thing than when he refused to be overborne by a senseless but fashionable cry against an appointment that the facts show was eminently fit to be made. The Boston managers of the Republican party deserve to be curbed a little in their pretensions.

The Fall term of the Boston University School of Medicine opened at the college on Concord street, under the most favorable auspices. There were in attendance 146 students, which is an increase of 46 over the number remaining at the close of the last term. Applications for catalogues have been received from 200 persons and the faculty anticipate a further increase. Of the present number in attendance one-quarter are ladies; and of the young men, several are from India, England, Turkey and Cuba.

The Boston Globe recently gave a picture of the oldest house in Pawtucket. Encouraged by its success in this department, it now gives a cut representing the oldest house in Concord, N. H. The same cut is used in both instances and the wonder is if the process is to go on with reference to other towns. We have an oldest house in Newport and shall feel flattered to see the picture again in an illustrated article on our city. The Providence Journal wants to know whose name was first appended to the portrait of Gen. Olney Arnold which appeared in the Pawtucket illustrations. The Globe can tell, but we suspect it will not.

The Central Pacific Railroad Company having applied for permission to transfer coal oil and other combustibles on its freight boats, which are also licensed to carry passengers, is informed by the Treasury Department through the collector of customs of San Francisco, that the privilege cannot be granted, transportation of such articles by passenger-carrying steamers being expressly prohibited by law. An appeal is taken from this decision but we trust it will be sustained. Such articles are not proper for transportation on passenger ships.

BUSINESS IN BOSTON.

The Boston Advertiser says: If surface indications can be trusted, there has been a genuine revival of business, both wholesale and retail. The streets of the city are certainly more crowded with buyers than has been the case for a long time, and the stores all seem full of customers. Those whose daily walks are through the wholesale district, or in the vicinity of the freight stations, must be very unobserving if they have not noticed that the sidewalks are oftener encumbered with bales and boxes of goods than they have been at any time during the last two years, and that the crowds of teams delivering goods at the freight stations are far greater. What these facts would seem to indicate the reports of merchants confirm. Whether the profit on sale is large or small, it is generally admitted that trade is considerably greater in amount of goods disposed of than as far as it goes, as it shows that the tide has turned at last. Something remains to be done in the equalizing of values, chiefly in diminishing the cost of producing certain articles of general consumption, and when this is done, we may fairly hope for a season of prosperity.

THE RECEPTION ON BOARD THE BELLEROPHON.

We regret to learn that there is a little unpleasantness among our citizens growing out of the festivities to be held on the Bellerophon tomorrow. The visit of our English friends has been so pleasant, and the intercourse between them and our people so courteous and cordial, that it is a pity that outside parties have been able to mar, even in a small degree, the pleasures of the occasion. It seems that in issuing the invitations to the ship on the occasion when Admiral Wellesley returns the compliments that have been paid him, most of our city officials, including even the committee that had charge of the previous entertainments, together with Newport people generally, were omitted. The list of invited guests is indeed conspicuous by the absence of the names of our citizens. This is well understood to be the result of some small management, on the part of a clique into whose hands the list chanced to fall and who made the most of the opportunity. These "high toned" parties seem to desire a monopoly of honors intended to be conferred on our city in return for courtesies previously received, and they alone propose to appear as our honored representatives.

Since the postponement, an attempt has been made to rectify the error by issuing additional cards with what success remains to be seen. We are quite sure that the good feeling between our people and our honored guests will not be in the least disturbed by this unique arrangement, for the responsibility will fall in public estimation on others, and not on them. Admiral Wellesley and his brother officers have shown themselves to be gentlemen, in too true a sense to inspire an act like that under consideration.

PERSONALS.

......Tennyson owns and pets a flock of two hundred Southdown sheep.

......Mr. Carruth, the Vineland, N. J., editor who was shot by Landis, is reported to be failing rapidly.

......The English society which recently presented Patti with a gold trowel probably considers her a brick.

......Dante's house in Florence has been purchased by the local authorities, and will be restored in the style of the fourteenth century.

......A son of the Hon. Daniel W. Voorhees, it is said, will soon make his appearance upon the stage in the character of Hamlet, which he is now studying.

......Madame Ristori lately played an engagement at Sydney, in New South Wales, one week of which yielded her, it is said, a net profit of about $10,000 in gold.

......A pewter set of General Burgoyne's, marked with his name, is now in possession of a family at Gansevoort, New York, where it has been for nearly a century. It was found near the battle-field of Saratoga, in a hollow stump.

......Among the lady candidates who were successful at the recent Oxford local examinations were the two daughters of Professor Max Müller, who, besides the preliminary subjects, passed in English, French, and German.

......Dr. McLaren, the newly-elected Bishop of Illinois, was once an editor of the Cleveland Plaindealer; but he reformed many years since, and his former occupation should not be brought up against him. —[N. O. Republican.

......M. Thiers has received a graceful compliment from the municipality of Paris. The rough stone pavement in front of his house has been removed, and smooth cement put in its place, so that the venerable statesman may think, and work, and sleep tranquilly.

......A Paris correspondent of the London Daily News says that the French prince imperial is in bad health. His eyes are failing, and there are symptoms of the constitutional infirmity from which he suffered seven years ago breaking out again.

......Mr. Robert Dale Owen has entirely recovered his physical health, the Indianapolis News says, and his mental condition has improved so much that he expects to leave the institute in about a week. He proposes to spend the Winter at the home of his son Ernest, in Marquette.

......The common idea of Garibaldi is that he is one of those icy, self-denying patriots who feast on frigid meats and imbibe raw water. It is a mistake. He does not. During a recent excursion he occupied a villa with his family at Civita Vecchia, where he was supposed to be lodged and boarded at the public expense for a month. The settling of the bill reveals the fact that the general, hitherto described as so Spartan in his tastes, consumed with his friends during that time eighteen bottles of wine and eighty pounds of ice daily, to say nothing of other things in proportion. Such is the vivacity of the Italian character!

......At a recent revival meeting at Holyoke, Massachusetts, Mr. Whittle related the incident on which Mr. Sankey's hymn "Hold the Fort" was founded. He said there was a time of great risk to army, when the immense depot of supplies at the fort in Altoona Pass was held by a single brigade against a whole division of the rebel army. Sherman was extremely anxious, and, while the battle raged, he went up upon Kenesaw mountain to signal to the besieged. For a long time he could not attract attention through the smoke of the conflict, but finally a response was received, and the general sent this signal: "Hold the fort, for I am coming. W. T. Sherman."

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

—The brig John Pierce is getting ready for sea.

—Marshal Simmons yesterday arrested Benjamin Ross for being drunk.

—The new brick wall around the Custom House building is a decided improvement.

—Messrs. Page & Rowley, of this city during the Summer, have made an assignment.

—After this week the Taunton special and the extra train to Boston, leaving this city at 10:40, will be withdrawn.

—Several white persons have joined the new lodge of Good Templars, which is organized on a basis irrespective of color.

—Officer Joseph Beaumont yesterday afternoon arrested William Perry at the Mill street school house for larceny.

—The Centennial base ball club will give a social next Thursday night at the Light Infantry armory.

—The reception on board the Bellerophon takes place tomorrow from 3 to 6½ o'clock P. M. The vessel sails for Halifax early on Sunday morning.

—The revenue cutter Samuel Dexter went to the assistance of the schooner ashore on Dutch Island yesterday but her services were not needed.

—Mr. and Mrs. Loring Andrews and Judge H. L. Dickey and family sailed for Europe in the steamer Scythia which left New York on Wednesday.

—The steamer Bristol, after making five attempts yesterday morning during the gale to reach her dock at Fall River succeeded, but crushed in a large part of one of her paddle boxes in the attempt.

—The Messrs. J. & L. Coggeshall have had the entire charge of supplying the Bellerophon with provisions &c., all the time which she has been here and they are spoken of very highly by the vessel officers.

The steamer Crystal Wave, especially chartered for the occasion, arrived here yesterday afternoon having on board J. C. Pegram, W. W. Paine and Francis Colwell of Providence, the committee appointed to wait upon Admiral Wellesley at the Aquidneck House, and escort him to Providence this morning to participate in the hospitalities which will be tendered by the municipal government of that city today. The steamer left here at 9 o'clock, having on board the admiral and about thirty of his officers and a few invited guests of this city. Upon their arrival at Providence they will be honored by a salute and taken in carriages to the council chamber and introduced to the members of the city government, after which they will be taken in carriages and driven about the city. They will visit some of the manufacturing establishments, public schools, &c., and lunch at the Dexter Asylum. The admiral will have the opportunity of calling out the fire department. At six o'clock a grand banquet will be given at the Horse Guards armory to which about five hundred invitations have been issued. The party will arrive here at about ten o'clock in the evening and will be accompanied by a large number of the prominent citizens of Providence. The trip homeward will be enlivened by fireworks and music.

DESERTION AND DEATH.—During the gale of Wednesday night five of the sailors on board the Bellerophon, who had fallen in love with America, concluded to attempt the feat of swimming ashore, and taking up their abode under the stars and stripes. Getting quietly overboard they started for Goat Island but soon found themselves involved in all the difficulties of a rough and dangerous passage. Three of them turned back and got on board before their absence had been discovered, and it is not even now known who they are. The other two, however, pressed on amid the angry waves and one named William Saunders was successful in reaching the shore and making good his escape. The other, named George Manne, aged 22, paid the forfeit of his life for his folly. In making for the island he ran into the mackerel seine of William Holt and got the meshes tangled about his legs and before he could release himself died from exhaustion and exposure.

The gun which was fired at noon to denote the postponement of the admiral's reception brought to the surface his lifeless remains which were discovered by Mr. Holt, the owner of the seine, and brought alongside the vessel.

The body was taken on board at once and prepared for burial. He has a brother named F. Manne, employed in the Evening Mail office, New York, who came here to see him last week. He was promptly notified of the sad affair by telegraph.

The deceased is spoken of as a genial and good natured young man. While at Halifax he broke his leave of absence and so was not allowed to go ashore here as often as his companions. Saunders took the steamer F. C. Schultz for Providence at about 9 o'clock, having secured a citizen's dress to escape detection.

THE BONITA.

The novel little steam yacht Bonita which arrived in our harbor two or three days ago, was hauled upon the ways at the torpedo station yesterday. The most interesting feature of this unique little craft is her steering apparatus and propeller, and the opportunity to see and examine the propeller on the dry dock was improved by Admiral Porter and many of the officers of the torpedo class. The steering apparatus of the Alarm, now in our harbor, is very similar. The Bonita, in length is 50 feet, her breadth 7 feet and draft 2½. The cabin is in the forward part of the boat having an open cockpit aft. The engine is of a simple high pressure class having a cylinder nine inches in diameter and nine inch stroke. The engine is not reversable as it only runs in one direction. Its average speed is about 300 revolutions per minute. The propeller and steering apparatus are hung on a perpendicular shaft to which the engine is attached direct. The blades are very peculiar in form fastened on the ends of horizontal arms and have an oscillating motion as they revolve—a sort of a circular sculling motion. The propeller is connected with the helm in such a manner that the steersman can guide the vessel to any point of the compass by simply turning the helm. The boat can be moved forward, backward, or sideways, or turned in either direction on its own center, and this is all done by the propeller without any aid from the reversing bar.

The propeller is thirty six inches in diameter by fourteen deep and has a pitch of four feet eight inches. Her average speed is about 14 miles per hour.

THEN AND NOW.

A hundred years ago yesterday a British frigate, the Rose, under the command of Capt. James Wallace, left her moorings at Newport and sailed up the bay. Two smaller armed vessels were in her company. Wafted by a gentle breeze from the south, the squadron entered the harbor of Bristol a little before sunset. A demand for sheep not having been at once complied with, the ships opened fire, and for an hour the hapless town, then containing about twelve hundred people, was exposed to the horrors of a bombardment. An epidemic was raging, and several were lying dead at the time. The scene was long remembered, and the name of Wallace was remembered with detestation. Having thus harshly enforced compliance, he sailed away. A century has passed, and another British war-ship has dropped her anchor in Newport harbor. The visit has been the occasion of enthusiastic greetings, and today we welcome her officers to our city with cordial hospitality. The event is significant. Between Wallace and Wellesley what a revolution of feeling and sentiment has intervened. So may all enmities perish!—[Prov. Journal.

A marble memorial of Sir John Franklin has been placed in Westminster Abbey, in that part now known as the Nightingale Chapel. Beneath an elaborate canopy is the bust of the explorer, wearing his medals and orders on his breast. The bust bears the one word, "Franklin." Underneath is a marble picture of a ship ice-bound in the Arctic regions, bearing about it the words:

"O ye frost and cold, O ye ice and snow,
Bless ye the Lord; praise Him, and magnify Him forever."

Beneath the bust are these lines:

"Not here; the white North has thy bones; and thou,
Heroic Sailor-Soul,
Art passing on thine happier voyage now,
Toward no earthly pole."

These lines are followed by the name "Tennyson." On the right side of the monument is the inscription:

"To the memory of Sir John Franklin, born April 16, 1786, at Spilsby, Lincolnshire; died June 11, 1847, off Point Victory, in the Frozen Ocean, the beloved chief of the crews who perished with him in completing the discovery of the Northwest Passage."

On the other side the legend runs:

"This monument was erected by Jane, his widow, who after long waiting and sending many in search of him, herself departed to find him in the realms of life, July, 28, 1875, aged eighty-three years."

Foreign Notes.

It is asserted that Mr. Cushing, the American minister to Spain, has presented a note relating to the jurisdiction of courts martial over citizens of the United States in Cuba.

The splendid residence of Henry Alers Hankey, known as the Garder House, in Queen Anne's Gate, St. James Park, Westminster, London, was totally destroyed by fire last night. The loss on the building and its contents is estimated at $2,500,000.

A despatch from London says that, owing to the popular outcry, the admiralty have suspended the circular of July 31, ordering the surrender of fugitive slaves found on board British vessels.

It is officially announced that Burmah has unconditionally agreed to allow the passage of an escort of British troops through the Burmese territory to Yunnan, if another expedition thither is necessary.

Some wooden writing tablets were lately discovered in a house at Pompeii. In pursuing researches still further, two inkstands and a pen were found. The pen was of metal, and in form not unlike those made from quills. So we may suppose that steel pens are not so modern after all.

Among the curiosities of the Paris Geographical Exhibition was a plaster cast of an aerolite weighing 20,000 kilograms, found on the coast of Greenland in 1870; the jewels and ornaments of the Khan of Khiva, exhibited by the Emperor of Russia; the autograph atlas of Philip II. of Spain, dedicated to his father; Tycho Brahe's treatise on astronomy; and Scaliger and Cabinet's map of the world. Switzerland furnished specimens of the rocks met with in the St. Gothard Tunnel works, with the instruments employed in boring; the instruments used by the French government in observing the transit of Venus were exhibited, and a collection of vestiges of primitive man found in the Pyrenees.

The manufacture of huge guns is going on in Europe. One of 160 tons has been made, that buried a shot weighing a ton 45 feet deep in a sand bank, at 200 yards. A power of that nature hurled against the side of a ship cased like ordinary iron vessels, would crush it like pasteboard. Add those guns to the torpedo defences, and warfare on the sea will be exceedingly brief in the good time coming. They can well be called "peacemakers."

"Bless you," said John Henry, with tears in his eyes, "she takes her own hair off so easy that perhaps she doesn't know how it hurts to have mine pulled out."

A GOOD ELEPHANT.—An elephant in Calcutta had a disease in his eyes. For three days he had been completely blind. His owner, an engineer officer, asked the doctor if he could do anything to relieve the poor animal. The doctor said he would try the nitrate of silver, which was a remedy commonly applied to a similar disease in the human eye. The large animal was ordered to lie down, and at first, on the application of the remedy, raised a most extraordinary roar at the acute pain which it occasioned. The effect, however, was wonderful. The eye was in a manner restored, and the animal could partially see. The next day when he was brought and heard the doctor's voice he lay down of himself, placed his enormous head on one side, curled up his trunk, drew his breath just like a man about to endure an operation, gave a sigh of relief when it was over, and then by trunk and gesture evidently wished to express his gratitude.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

The Howe sewing machine agent on Washington square advertises that he will repair all machines of that pattern that are not giving satisfaction free of charge.

YOU HAVE NO EXCUSE.

Have you any excuse for suffering with dyspepsia or liver complaint? Is there any reason why you should go on from day to day complaining with Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Habitual Costiveness, palpitation of the Heart, Heartburn, Waterbrash, Gnawing and burning pains at the pit of the Stomach, Yellow Skin, Coated Tongue and disagreeable taste in the mouth, coming up of food after eating, low spirits, &c. No! It is positively your own fault if you do. Go to James H. Taylor's—and get a bottle of Green's August Flower for 75 cents. Your cure is certain, but if you doubt this, get a sample bottle for 10 cents and try it. Two doses will relieve you.

No wonder it has come into popularity so soon, for in light running, smooth, noiseless and rapid work, with lock stitch and automatic drop feed, it seems to be the acme of invention in its line."—[Davenport Gazette Iowa, Sept. 9th, 1875.

"The best sewing machine in America," beats the other machines on their own ground."—[Davenport Democrat.

"A machine entirely divested of cog wheels and rotary cams, and as perfect in all its particulars as good workmanship can make it. The superior production of these machines and their elegant finish will make them highly popular. [Iowa Commercial Sept. 10th, 1875.

DIED.

GLADDING—In this city, Oct 7th, Clara B. Gladding, wife of Oliver H. P. Gladding, aged 27 years.
Funeral from the residence of her husband, Gladding Court, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend without further notice.

Malaria-Breeding Floods.

The recent tremendous freshets which have flooded some of the most fertile low lands of the United States, have not only caused wide spread ruin and disaster, but have as might have been expected, been followed by an unprecedented outcrop of fever and ague, bilious remittents, and other diseases of a malarial type. The sun's rays, acting upon the saturated vegetation and isolated pools left by the retiring waters, have exhaled a far-reaching miasma, which is pregnant with disease. The most reliable safeguard against it is found to be Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the present demand for which, more particularly in the West and Southwest, where the floods have been most severe, exceeds any which has existed in the past, popular as the great national remedy and preventive of malaria has always been. Never has it been put to such a crucial test, or its claims more conspicuously vindicated. oct6-n&j-1w

Important to Travelers.

When you visit or leave the City of NEW YORK, save annoyance and expense of carriage hire and stop at the GRAND UNION HOTEL, opposite the GRAND CENTRAL DEPOT. It has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms and is fitted up at an expense of over $200,000. Elevator, steam and all modern improvements. European Plan. The RESTAURANTS, Lunch Counter and Wine Rooms are supplied with the best the markets can furnish. The cuisine is unsurpassed. Rooms for a single person, at $1.50 and $2 per day; rich suites for families proportionately low, so that visitors to the city and travelers can live more luxuriously, for less money at the GRAND UNION, than at any other first-class Hotel in the city. Stages and Cars pass the Hotel every minute for all parts of the City.

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED.
SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,
SCHENCK'S SEA WEED TONIC,
SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS,
Are the only medicines that will cure Pulmonary Consumption.

Frequently medicines that will stop a cough will occasion the death of the patient; they lock up the liver, stop the circulation of the blood, hemorrhage follows, and in fact, they clog the action of the very organs that caused the cough.

Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia are the causes of two thirds of the cases of Consumption. Many persons complain of a dull pain in the side, constipation, coated tongue, pain in the shoulder blade, feelings of drowsiness and restlessness, the food lying heavily on the stomach, accompanied with acidity and belching up of wind.

These symptoms usually originate from a disordered condition of the stomach or a torpid liver.

Persons so affected, if they take one or two heavy colds, and if the cough in these cases be suddenly checked, will find the stomach and liver clogged, remaining torpid and inactive, and almost before they are aware the lungs are a mass of sores, and ulcerated, the result of which is death.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup is an expectorant which does not contain opium or anything calculated to check a cough suddenly.

Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic dissolves the food, mixes the gastric juices of the stomach, aids digestion, and creates a ravenous appetite.

When the bowels are costive, skin sallow, or the symptoms otherwise of a bilious tendency, Schenck's Mandrake Pills are required.

These medicines are prepared only by
J. H. SCHENCK & SON,
N. E. corner Sixth and Arch Sts., Phila.
And are for sale by all druggists and dealers.

STOVES.

The undersigned has on hand a full line of

COOK & PARLOR STOVES.

The superiority of the DOMESTIC RANGE over many others is acknowledged, and upwards of 300 are now in use in this city. Have them both with and without hot-closet. PALLAS RANGE is something new. It is furnished with and without lower hot closet. It is really worth seeing as it is one of most highly finished ranges in the market. It has six holes and a large surface. It has a broiling door without one going to the trouble of taking off the covers and thus allowing the gas to escape. It has a handy towel rack on the side, has good large oven with shaking and dumping grate and ash pit. They are arranged so that water fronts can be put in. Mounted with nickel plated knobs, and the upper closet entirely of cast iron.

FOR PARLOR STOVES

THE AMERICAN BASE BURNER AND THE SUPERIOR

will be found on hand. The public knows what these stoves are. A good supply of the

GENERAL NEWS.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Increase of Revenue Receipts.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.

Internal Revenue Commissioner Pratt has begun writing his annual report. For the first three months of the fiscal year internal revenue receipts show an increase of $2,000,000 advance over the same time last year, and the commissioner estimates the receipts of the entire year about $125,000,000, or $10,000,000 more than collected last year.

Financial.

Customs receipts today, $483,012; Internal revenue receipts, $348,837.

FROM NEW YORK.

THE FAILURE OF JOHN GORHAM.

The Gorham Manufacturing Company not Affected.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.

Regarding the failure of John Gorham, the following statement is made by the treasurer of the company, who is now stopping at the Tremont House: "The personal paper of John Gorham of Providence, President of the Gorham Manufacturing Company, went to protest in this city on the 5th instant. His failure is occasioned by large real estate operations in New York and Boston, and in no way impairs or affects the credit or standing of the Gorham Manufacturing Company, or any member of it. Their credit is undoubted, and the resources of the company are amply sufficient to maintain its high reputation."

Moody and Sankey to Commence their Labors in Philadelphia.

A special from Philadelphia states that Moody and Sankey have determined to commence work in that city Nov. 1st., and that a large building is to be erected.

Local News.

The Red Cloud investigating committee continued their work yesterday. It is expected that their report will be ready by the end of the current week. Its nature is unknown, the members being unwilling to give any publicity to their proceedings. Dr. Marsh, who complained about the management of affairs in the Red Cloud Agency, has left for New Haven.

At a large meeting of depositors of the Third Avenue Savings Bank held last night, a committee was appointed to report on the affairs of the bank, to have the receiver removed, and to employ counsel to take the necessary steps for that purpose. Addresses were delivered condemning the action of the court at Albany in appointing a receiver.

MISCELLANEOUS.

England's Relations with China.

LONDON, Oct. 7.

The mayor of Liverpool gave a banquet to the Earl of Derby, this evening. Lord Derby, in the course of his response to a toast, expressed the opinion that the insurrectionary difficulty in Turkey had been exaggerated. He said the great powers were not disposed to assist the insurgents. It would be impolitic to concede self-government to Herzegovina. Judicious reforms might alleviate the discontent, although a radical cure could hardly be expected. Alluding to England's relations with China, he said no further intelligence had been received from Pekin. Every one must deprecate war while honorably avoidable. It was necessary, however, to insist upon just and moderate demands and not shirk our duty because it was unpleasant. If trouble should arise the fault would not be ours.

LONDON, Oct. 8, 5:30 A. M.

The morning papers publish Lord Derby's speech at Liverpool in full. The paragraph relating to China concludes with the following words: "From what we know already I am hopeful that matters will go well."

Accident to Steamer Bristol.

FALL RIVER, Oct. 7.

Rain commenced falling here at an early hour this morning.

The steamer Bristol of the Fall River and New York line was detained three hours, owing to the intense storm. After several attempts to reach her dock she succeeded, but broke in a large part of her paddle boxes.

A Ship Founders at Sea.—All Hands Saved.

GARDINER, Oct. 7.

Private dispatches from North Sidney, C. B., Oct. 7, to J. M. Hagar, Richmond, report the foundering at sea of his ship Mayflower, bound from Greenock to Boston with pig iron. The crew were saved. The Mayflower was built by her owner at Richmond in 1863, was 1,018 tons burthen was valued at $30,000; no insurance. She was commanded by W. S. Harrington.

LIBERIA.

War With the Aborigines—A Great Battle Expected.

LONDON, Oct. 7.

The Times has the following: War has commenced at Cape Patmos between Liberia and the Aborigines under the command of several natives. There was some fighting on the 17th of September, in which fifty were killed and wounded. The Liberian government has despatched troops from Monrovia to the scene of action and a great battle is daily expected.

Attempt to Burn a Coal Breaker at West Brookside, Pa.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 6.

Last night an attempt was made to destroy the large West Brookside breaker owned by the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company. The blacksmith shop, fan house, car enter shop and oil house, connected with the breaker, were burned down, but the employes succeeded in saving the breaker. West Brookside is in the southern portion of the region, and has hitherto been quiet and free from violence and incendiarism.

The Navy Yard Defalcation.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.

General Lagrange, superintendent of the mint, has tendered his resignation owing to the connection of his name with the appointment of Pinney, the defaulting naval paymaster's clerk. The court of inquiry at Mare Island in the Pinney case, is proceeding with closed doors. Paymaster Spaulding promises a revelation that will make a flattering among politicians as regards the influences which retained Pinney in his position, if the inquiry is pressed too hard upon him.

THE FRIAR'S POINT DISORDER.

Senator Alcorn and General Chalmers in Command.

FRIAR'S POINT, Miss., Oct. 5, via Helena, Oct. 6, 3. A. M.—The sheriff of Coahoma county caused the town to be invaded this morning by an armed mob of negroes. We drove them back. We are fully organized for defence with Senator Alcorn and General Chalmers in command. The sheriff has fled the country. Send us aid immediately.

(Signed) A. P. REID.
GEO. R. ALCORN.

The above was received at Memphis this morning.

No Help Probable from Outside.—The Affair a Personal Grievance.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 6.

The impression prevails here that there will be no bloodshed at Friar's Point, and notwithstanding numerous telegrams for men and arms, no steps have been taken to forward either. People here consider the fuss a personal grievance between Alcorn and Chalmers [illegible] antagonism to Alcorn. Later advices state that Alcorn has 70 cavalry and 40 infantry with which he had driven off Brown and two hundred armed negroes, who retreated three miles from town where they made a stand. No fighting has yet occurred and no body of men has left or will go from Helena.

The Situation at Friar's Point.

A dispatch to the Appeal from Friar's Point, Miss., at 11 o'clock today, reports that in a skirmish between the whites and blacks near that place last evening, eight negroes and one white man were wounded. Everybody is under arms, and further appeals are made for help.

The Treatment of the Negroes at Friar's Point.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 5.

An Avalanche special from Helena received at nine o'clock today, says: from Captain Isaac N. Brown, who is just from the seat of war, I learn that all was quiet at Friar's Point. Negroes numbering about one thousand collected near the town and the whites required Sheriff Brown to disperse them. He went out and told them to go home, which they refused to do. General Chalmers then ordered them to disperse, which they did, but collected again when Chalmers charged them and drove them off by firing over their heads. They again collected behind a bayou and Chalmers flanked them and fired again, this time wounding some of the negroes. He kept driving them until he reached Clarksdale, when they all disappeared, they stopping at their homes as they were driven back. It was understood that the negroes were again collecting at Jonestown, Alcorn's place, and Chalmers was going out there to disperse them. Chalmers has some two or three hundred men, and the negroes fly before him whenever he makes a charge. One white man has been wounded. This trouble will cost the people, white and black, a great deal, as no cotton is being gathered, and every day counts. Major Alcorn says that hired cotton pickers are leaving, and the loss of cotton would ruin people generally.

Newport Daily News.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1875.

A LOST METHOD OF EXPRESSION.

It has been too much the fashion of late to decry this department of the work of housekeeping as useless and menial, and to insist that money ought to buy its result, leaving to the wife and daughter time for self-improvement and higher duties. There can be no doubt that the average American housekeeper often becomes a slave to her store-closet, one-third of the year being spent in preparing food for the remainder; canned vegetables, salted meat, pickles and preserves are often the millstone which drags her soul and body down to a very low level. But there is another side to the subject, and we may strike just the middle-ground on it as on any other. Nobody wants a George Eliot, or Florence Nightingale, or Jessie Fremont, to give her time to compounding piccalillis or preserves. But, while one woman is a leader in society, literature, or philanthropy, ninety-nine adopt some smaller way to make themselves useful and helpful in bettering and brightening the little world about them, and these smaller ways in city life are frequently incessant devotion to visiting, to music, to making horrible and exhausting efforts at home decoration. We confess that when we have sat down to feasts where the vegetables smacked too strongly of the professional canner's art, where the meats were ill-cooked, the offense of the pickles was rank with vitriol, and the desserts bore that inextinguishable flavor of the confectioner's shop, and when, after dinner we have been called on to listen to feeble strumming of the piano, of weak criticisms on the last exhibition, or to admire works of art in the shape of spatterdash, or Persian embroideries on Turkish toweling, we have remembered the busy Pennsylvania kitchen and the bountiful tables of old Virginia matrons; the delicious flavor, idiosyncrasy, if we may call it so, of every dish; the care with which the father's taste in soups, and the boys' fancy for certain jams, were remembered from year to year; the thousand ways in which skill and good taste and affection were shown in this base art of cookery; the genuine, home made flavor of the dishes, the talk, the very fun,—we are not at all sure that women in ignoring this ancient craft so utterly, have not slighted one of their strongest modes of expression. —["Home and Society;" Scribner for Oct.

WOMEN AND WORK.—Why should it not be as respectable for a woman to earn a living as for a man? A young woman of fashion may, if she chooses, make her own dresses, arrange her own millinery, be her own hairdresser, but the moment she undertakes these services for some one else for an equivalent, down she goes on the social ladder. So when Papa Milledollar fails in business and retires from Park avenue to a French flat in a "highly respectable locality," Miss Milledollar—who has a genius for costumes and is an artist in bonnets, and could make a respectable livelihood for herself, and help the fallen fortunes of her family if she betook herself to her needle—putters around the house doing work that has in it no remunerative value, and could as well be done by others, and attempts to earn a respectable incompetency by writing verses that find their fate in the editorial waste baskets, or stories that wear out in passing from office to office and perhaps after all are not sold. If women cannot remedy this evil, men can. There is no question that men are less petty in their views of life than are women. Then, since women cannot or will not rise up and be self-respectful in this matter of remunerative labor, let men undertake to put it upon its right footing. If men of position would treat the self-supporting, industrious woman who earns her living at the counting-house desk, behind the counter, or at the sewing machine with more or even the same respect and attention that they show to idle women, or those who have no need to struggle for existence, there would soon be an end of reluctance to enter upon such callings. When men take such a stand, women will have to follow.—[Scotch Granite in the New York Evening Mail.

THE JAY COOKE SALE.—There is a melancholy interest attaching to the sale by auction of the personal effects of Mr. Jay Cooke, at his magnificent residence near Philadelphia. The failure of the banker was so complete and far reaching that even the smallest articles of his property, like the great wealth he earned during the war, are being scattered to the winds or seized by strangers. The sale, of course, attracted a large number of curious visitors, and before the auctioneer's tongue began to rattle they inspected the extensive grounds, and the vast building with its splendid belongings. Entering the wide, heavily carved front door, you see nothing but the most expensive fittings. On both sides, quite through to the other end of the house, are rows and tiers of exquisite oil paintings hiding the walls. The rooms below are gorgeously arranged, and the second story, like all of the stories above it, is one of the best places in the world to get lost in. It is full of long entries and winding stairs and unexpected corners. In the next story is the billiard room, where still stands a fine table, supplied with roundest of balls and gilded cues to play them with. The furnishing of the second and of every subsequent story is fully on a par with that of the great entrance hall. Paintings are everywhere, and statues and mirrors. The catalogued list of a single chamber's contents is a n a sample of the whole: "Suite of carved walnut chamber furniture, silk terry walnut couch, four walnut chairs, walnut rocker, two walnut reception chairs, walnut oval centre table with Italian marble top, walnut towel rack, decorated china toilet ware, two decorated French china mantel vases, French plate mantel mirror in a walnut and gilt frame, suite lace window curtains with gilt cornices, two suites blue silk terry window curtains, with silk cords, tassels and cornices." On the outside of the house everything is on the same scale; a gray stone palace for the horses, long stretches of hothouses, stone balconies, stone walks, and long shaded lanes under the overhanging trees.

"STOP THIS CONTRACTION."—The Cincinnati Commercial gives the following record:

There is in circulation at this moment $769,840,119 in paper money, which in round numbers is

2 millions more than in 1874,
29 millions more than in 1873,
40 millions more than in 1872,
18 millions more than in 1871,
86 millions more than in 1870,
63 millions more than in 1869,
91 millions more than in 1868,
75 millions more than in 1867,
71 millions more than in 1866,
141 millions more than in 1865,
167 millions more than in 1864,
482 millions more than in 1863,
437 millions more than in 1862,
591 millions more than in 1861,

"Stop this contraction?" Such was the remark of the Hon. George H. Pendleton.

Mrs. Milliss was asked the other day how she managed to get along so nicely with Mr. Milliss, and frankly replied: "Oh, I feed him well. When a woman marries, her happiness for a little while depends upon the state of her husband's heart; after that, it's pretty much according to the state of his stomach."—[Brooklyn Argus.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY.
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,
No. 76 State St., opp. Kilby St., Boston.

AFTER AN EXTENSIVE PRACTICE of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms, with despatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of Inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part, leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
